WRITTEN TESTIMONY ONLY

Bill No. and Title: House Bill No. 275, Proposing an Amendment to Article VI, Section 3 of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii Authorizing the Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court to Appoint Retired Judges to Serve as Emeritus Judges.

Purpose: Amends Article VI Section 3 of the Hawaii Constitution to authorize the Chief Justice to appoint judges who retired upon attaining the age of seventy years to serve as emeritus judges.

Judiciary's Position:

The Judiciary supports House Bill No. 275 but suggests alternative language, as set forth in the attached proposed House Bill No. 275, H.D. 1. that would clarify that a judge or justice can serve as an emeritus judge or justice after they have retired, regardless of whether they retired based on their age or for another reason.

House Bill No. 275 proposes amending the Hawaii Constitution to permit the Chief Justice to call upon retired judges over the age of 70 to assist the courts when needed. The Judiciary supports this proposal as retired judges and justices are valuable resources in terms of both providing mentorship and also helping with the timely and fair resolution of cases.

The Judiciary offers the following comments and suggestions:

1. We would note that the bill, in its present form, could be read in a very limited fashion so that only those judges who retired because they reached the age of seventy years would be permitted to return as emeritus judges. Our proposed H.D.1 deletes the language that those judges who may be emeritus judges are those “who have retired upon attaining the age of seventy years” so that it is clear that judges who have retired, for reasons other than their age, may be appointed by the chief justice to serve as emeritus judges.
2. We note that the bill mentions only “retired judges” and does not specify that those retired judges may also include “justices” of the Hawaii Supreme Court. It should be noted that last year’s legislative history on a comparable bill, Senate Bill No. 650, H.D. 1, included language clarifying that justices of the Hawaii Supreme Court would also be included as judges who could be appointed as emeritus judges. We would respectfully suggest that the bill be amended to include “justices” or that the committee report reflect that intent. (Last year’s Standing Committee report noted: “Additionally, your Committee notes that ‘judges’ as used in this measure is contemplated to include ‘justices’ as may be applicable.” See Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1268-12 for Senate Bill No. 650, H.D.1 (2012)).
3. Conferring upon the Chief Justice the authority to appoint as emeritus judges the experienced judges and justices who have retired, would be a significant benefit to the Judiciary and the people of Hawaii. Presently, there are 49 retired judges in the state. Thirty eight of those judges retired before attaining the age of 70. Eleven of those 49 judges retired upon attaining the age of 70. If this bill is passed, these judges and justices, with their wealth of experience and knowledge, could be called upon again to serve the Judiciary.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on House Bill No. 275.
