

CONCURRENCE BY RECKTENWALD, J.,
IN WHICH MOON, C.J., JOINS

I concur in the denial of the petition, but write separately since my analysis differs from that of the majority. I would hold that Petitioner has failed to demonstrate her entitlement to mandamus relief, since she can raise these issues on direct appeal. See Kema v. Gaddis, 91 Hawai'i 200, 204, 982 P.2d 334, 338 (1999) (holding that "[a] writ of mandamus and/or prohibition is an extraordinary remedy that will not issue unless the petitioner demonstrates a clear and indisputable right to the relief requested and a lack of other means to redress adequately the alleged wrong or to obtain the requested action.") (citation omitted) (emphasis added).
