Aloha,

The Center for Alternative Dispute Resolution (CADR) ensures that alternative dispute resolution is available in Hawai‘i. Alternative dispute resolution offers opportunities for early, party-driven, efficient, and fair solutions.

CADR:

- Designs and helps implement alternative dispute resolution programs for state and county government;
- Mediates and facilitates public policy disputes referred by elected or appointed government officials;
- Manages the Judiciary’s purchase of services contract for mediation and related dispute resolution services; and
- Promotes alternative dispute resolution through training and education.

This report summarizes CADR’s work during Fiscal Year 2017-2018.

Sincerely,
Mark E. Recktenwald
Chief Justice

Programs

CADR designs and helps implement alternative dispute resolution programs for state and county governments. The programs encourage parties to avoid unnecessary litigation and encourage early and fair conflict resolution.

Direct Services

CADR provides mediation, facilitation, and process design services for cases involving public policy.

- From its inception to the end of FY 2017-2018, the Hawai'i Appellate Mediation Program brought in 698 cases, and 53% of those cases settled or partially settled. During FY 2017-2018, the Hawai'i Appellate Mediation program settled or partially settled 11 cases.
- The First Circuit Family Court Paternity Mediation Program mediated 41 cases.
- CADR assisted the Campaign Spending Commission with its strategic planning.

Training, Education, Research, and Outreach

CADR provides training workshops for State and City and County employees:

- Working It Out: Skills for Managing Conflict.
- Foundation for Collaborative Leadership.
- Handling Difficult Situations in the Workplace.
- Mediation in the Workplace.
- Planning and Facilitating Effective Meetings.

CADR provides/hosts training workshops for the public:
