QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question #1:

“Do we need to have both a “B” and a “C-22” license to bid on this project?

Answer:

No, you do not have to have both a “B” and a “C-22” license to bid on this project. A “B” license is required because there are multiple trades involved (cabinet/carpentry and glazing). A “B” license holder can bid on this project as long as they possess a “C-22” sub license or list a subcontractor possessing this license and comply with the requirements of the “Requirements and Specifications”, Section 00210 Instructions to Bidders, Sub-section 1.05 – F, paragraphs 1 – 6.

Question #2:

How will the partition secure to the pillar on the Makai end of the transaction counter?

Answer:

There should be no clearance problem with vertical brackets at sides of solid partitions. Briefly stated, 1” x 3” Aluminum End pieces extend below Glazing Channels as indicated and are securely attached directly to new solid partition extensions at each side of transaction windows and ends down to top of the existing Countertop. Submit shop drawings as specified.
