Court Proceedings Shall be Expanded in Phases

8. The District Court of the First Circuit encompasses five different courthouses: Kauikeaouli Hale (i.e., the Honolulu District Court), the Kāne`ohe District Court, the `Ewa District Court, the Wahiawā District Court, and the Wai`anae District Court. Each courthouse varies in size and layout. The largest courthouse, the Honolulu District Court, has two courtrooms on the fourth floor, four courtrooms on the seventh floor, and four courtrooms on the tenth floor. Currently, access to the building and the courtrooms is controlled through the security screening on the plaza, and all court users are funneled to their final destinations through an elevator bank consisting of four elevators. When social distancing is taken into account, each elevator can only transport four people at a time.

Each courtroom at Honolulu District Court varies in size. The larger courtrooms on the fourth floor normally accommodate about 100-125 people, while the smaller courtrooms on the seventh and tenth floors normally accommodate between 25-50 people. When social distancing is taken into account, the maximum capacity of each of these courtrooms is significantly reduced.

9. Throughout the COVID-19 outbreak, the Honolulu District Court remained open for essential in-court proceedings. These proceedings included:

- a. Criminal felony cases;
- b. Criminal misdemeanor and petty misdemeanor cases involving defendants in the custody of the Oahu Community Correctional Center (OCCC), the Hawai'i State Hospital (HSH), and/or the Honolulu Police Department (HPD);
- c. Criminal traffic misdemeanor and petty misdemeanor cases involving defendants in the custody of OCCC, HSH, and/or HPD;
- d. Cases on the mental health calendar involving hearings under Hawai'i Revised Statutes (Haw. Rev. Stat.) Chapter 704 on (1) Orders for Temporary Hospitalization; (2) Motions to Revoke Conditional Release; and (3) other essential hearings;
- e. Cases involving temporary restraining orders (TROs) and injunctions under Haw. Rev. Stat. § 604-10.5; and
- f. Cases involving TROs and injunctions based on illegal lockouts and utility shutoffs.

These essential court proceedings shall continue to be heard at the Honolulu District Court. For TRO cases filed between June 1, 2020, and June 30, 2020, no more than five (5) cases shall be set during any court session, without prior approval of the Deputy Chief Judge.

10. During the COVID-19 outbreak, the District Court worked with numerous stakeholders to facilitate court proceedings via video conferencing in cases involving custody defendants. To the extent possible, video conferencing shall continue to be used for cases involving defendants currently in the custody of HPD, OCCC, and/or HSH.

11. In-person proceedings in criminal misdemeanor, criminal petty misdemeanor, traffic misdemeanor, and traffic petty misdemeanor cases involving defendants who are not in the custody of OCCC, HSH, and/or HPD will be postponed until after June 30, 2020.

a. Remote hearings for status conferences, change of plea, and demand or waiver of jury trial proceedings are currently being explored.

b. Individuals with pending arraignment dates in criminal misdemeanor, criminal petty misdemeanor, traffic misdemeanor, and traffic petty misdemeanor cases who cannot afford to hire an attorney may contact the Office of the Public Defender for possible legal representation prior to their court dates. Individuals will still need to go through a qualification process based on their financial situation to qualify for services. Intake appointments are currently available by telephone only.

THE MEDIATION CENTER OF THE PACIFIC, INC.

RAPID RESPONSE LANDLORD-TENANT MEDIATION

The fight against the Coronavirus has created financial hardships for many. With thousands of layoffs and furloughs, tenants are stretched to pay their rent, and landlords are worried about how they will pay their mortgage and other bills. And while there is currently a moratorium on evictions, tenants are still required to pay their rent. If landlords and tenants don't talk now and work out payment plans, they may find themselves fighting in a back-logged eviction process when the moratorium is lifted.

To help landlords and tenants negotiate realistic payment plans and maintain a positive working relationship, the Mediation Center of the Pacific, Inc. (MCP) has created a Rapid Response Mediation Program. Through videoconference, telephone or a secure online platform, landlords and tenants can work with an impartial mediator who will help them discuss a variety of options such as payment plans, temporary rent reduction, deferred payments, and other creative solutions that will enable the landlord to continue receiving some level of payment and enable the tenant to craft a realistic future for remaining in their home. By making a plan, everyone can relieve some of their worries about the future.
